Description
<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The vehicle first has to be delivered to transportation authority and inspected qualified. After having applied for tax exemption with attached documents and being approved by the tax collection authority, the applying party may receive the license plate from transportation authority. 2. If the applicant is an institute or a group, the seal of the institute or the group as well as the personal seal of the person-in charge must be applied to the application form. 3. This application form consists of three copies. After verification of the details of the application, the tax collection authority will keep the first copy and the applicant shall supply the second copy to tax collection authority for tax refund and the third copy to the transportation authority for the licence plate. 4. Once the application form has been approved, on condition that the reason for tax exemption remains unchanged, it is not necessary to apply for tax exemption annually. 5. The ownership of the tax-exempted vehicle may not be transferred, nor may the vehicle be refitted, relocated, and nor may there be a change in its use of purpose. Once the reason for the tax exemption becomes invalid, the applicant should apply to the tax collection authority for resumption of the payment of the Vehicle License Tax.
